Gratitude grows when we share it. Take a moment this month to thank someone who makes Midway a better place.

The Mayor's Corner

Dear Neighbors,

As the leaves fall and the crisp late-autumn air moves into our valley, November brings a natural season of reflection. This month, I want to share a few thoughts on community, civic duty, and the exciting holiday traditions just around the corner.

I am especially grateful for the spirit of Midway, our beautiful surroundings, our rich heritage, and, most importantly, the people who make this such a special place to call home. Thank you for the many ways you help keep Midway safe, welcoming, and connected.

As colder weather arrives and the days grow shorter, I also encourage everyone to check in on a neighbor. A quick phone call, a little help with fall cleanup, or simply stopping by to say hello can make a meaningful difference, especially for those who may be alone.

With Election Day upon us, I encourage every eligible resident to make their voice heard. You can find voting and ballot information at Vote.utah.gov.

Looking ahead, we are also getting ready for one of our favorite community traditions, Christmas on the Square. We look forward to gathering together again for festive lights, holiday traditions, and the small-town spirit that makes this season in Midway so special. Stay tuned to the city website for event details.

Wishing you and your families a safe, happy, and meaningful Thanksgiving.

-Mayor Craig Simons

America250: A Year to Remember

What a year it has been! Midway's America250 celebration brought our community together through opportunities to learn, celebrate, and connect.

We kicked things off with Red, White and Midway, followed by projects and events for residents of all ages. More than 900 community-painted tiles became our Community Mural, while the Memorial Hill Legacy Flag Project honored local veterans with more than 250 American flags lining the trail.

One of the year's most memorable moments was our Fourth of July concert with the Utah Symphony, when more than 4,000 residents and visitors gathered on Town Square for an evening of patriotic music. In October, we continued the celebration with Beaks & Peaks, bringing the story of our national symbol, the Bald Eagle to life in a memorable way.

As the year comes to a close, participants are wrapping up the Move Through Midway Challenge, completing miles by walking, running, hiking, and biking throughout the community.

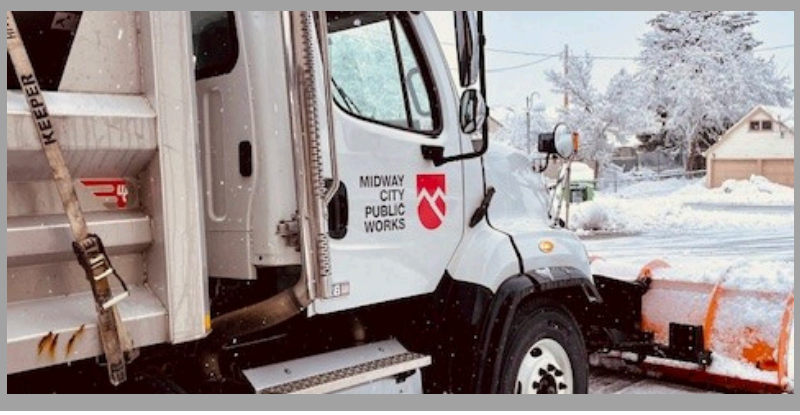

America250 has truly been a community celebration to honor our country. Thank you to everyone who participated, volunteered and celebrated with us. Together, we made this a year to remember.

Help Keep Midway Moving This Winter

Snow season is just around the corner, and a little preparation can help our Public Works crews clear streets more safely and efficiently.

When snow is expected, please keep vehicles, garbage cans, trailers, and other items out of the roadway. Avoid pushing or blowing snow back into the street, and give snowplows plenty of room to work.

Our crews work hard throughout each storm to keep Midway's roads open and safe. Thank you for doing your part to help them move through neighborhoods efficiently and keep winter travel safer for everyone.

Before the Snow Falls

- Snow Cleanup Policies are in force from November 15 to April 1.
- Move vehicles, trailers and personal property off the streets during clean-up periods.
- Do not push snow from driveways into public roads or right-of-way.
- Give snowplows plenty of space to work safely, and never approach or block a moving plow.

Give A Little

November is a natural time to think about gratitude, but it is also a good time to put that gratitude into action. Small gestures can make a meaningful difference, especially as the holidays and colder weather approach.

Giving a little might mean checking on a neighbor, donating to a local food/clothing drive, volunteering in your community, or simply offering your time and attention to someone who could use it.

This Month's Connection Challenge:
Choose one simple way to give a little.

CHRISTMAS ON THE SQUARE

Saturday, November 28 · Midway Town Square

Join us on November 28 as Town Square comes to life with lights, music, the new Chlausmärt Winter Market, and the traditions our community looks forward to each year. We hope you'll gather with family and friends as we welcome the Christmas season together.

Chlausmärt Winter Market

Noon to 8 PM

New this year, our Chlausmärt Winter Market will bring the charm of a European-style Christmas market to Town Square. Wander through festive market tents, discover unique gifts and seasonal treats, and enjoy the sights and sounds of Christmas in the heart of Midway.

Tree Lighting Celebration

6 PM

As evening arrives, we'll gather at the gazebo for our traditional Tree Lighting celebration. Pick up a candle, join us for caroling, and help welcome Santa as he arrives to lead the countdown to light the Christmas tree.
